DR. J. M. WORTH DEAD.

HE PASSED AWAY PEACEFULLY
EARLY THIS MORNING.

His Death Was Due to Old Age—A Short Sketch of One of the State's Distinguished Citizens

Dr. J. M. Worth, one of the State's best citizens and known far and near as one of the leading men of the state, died at his home in Ashboro this morning, at the ripe old age of nearly eighty-nine years. Dr. Worth had been in failing health for some time, owing rather to his extreme age than to disease, but the news that he was dead was received here with surprise by many.

The funeral will occur tomorrow at Ashboro at eleven o'clock, and will be conducted by Rev. C. E. Hodgins, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Greensboro.

Dr. Worth was a native of Guilford county, having been born near Centre church. His ancestors moved to North Carolina from Massachusetts, and were a good old Quaker stock. His father was a practicing physician of the old school, the confident and friend of his patients, and from him his son learned to love the ministrations of the physician, and so adopted the profession as his own. Dr. Worth's brothers and sisters, but one still lives, Mr. E. G. Worth, of Wilmington. One only of his children survive him, Mrs.
A. C. McAllister, mother of our townsman, Mr. A. W. McAllister. He continued to actively practice his profession up till middle life, when the increasing cares of business forced him to give it up.

Through his long and useful life,
the people, recognized his integrity and ability, often called him to the public service. He ever responded faithfully to the call and in different capacities served his people and State.
He several times represented his county in the general assembly, both in the lower and upper branches. In the year 1848, when the question of whether the State should aid in the construction of the North Carolina railroad had caused a most bitter fight in the legislature, he cast the last vote in the senate in favor of the measure, which caused the famous tie broken by Calvin Graves, who voting in the affirmative, broke the tie, and made possible the completion of the road.

The reputation of Dr. Worth as a most able financier and a man of sterling integrity, caused him to be elected in 1876 to the responsible position of state treasurer, when Vance was elected Governor, and he was re-elected during Jarvis' term, and to his efforts were due the settlement of the State's debt.

On retiring from public life Dr.
Worth gave his time and efforts to the development of cotton milling and other industries of his section. In business as well as in public service he had the unbounded confidence of his associates, not only as to his integrity, but as to his excellent business judgment. He was president of the North Manufacturing Company, of Worth-ville; the Southern Stock Mutual Insurance Company, of Greensboro, the Bank of Randolph, the Cedar Falls Manufacturing Company, and the Ashboro Lumber Company, besides being connected with many other enterprises.

The unswerving integrity of this good man was such that he was known as "Honest John Worth," and no higher tribute could have been paid to his character. While not actively engaged in business during the last years of his life, he still gave the benefit of his advice and wise counsel to others. In all public questions he had a keen and intelligent interest.

His mind was clear and strong to the last, and death brought no suffering. "Sure the last end Of the good man is peace!—how calm his exit!"
"Night-dews fall not more gently to the ground,
Nor weary, worn-out winds expire so soft."

After a life spent in good works and a faithful discharge of duty, he was an inspiration to those left behind, as standing upon the shore, he serenely awaited the call to meet his "Pilot face to face."

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

For tho' from out our bourne of
Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have cross'd the bar.

BOERS BECOMING AUDACIOUS.

GOING TO TRY TO INVEST ROBERTS AT BLOEMFONTEIN.

Roberts is Concentrating His Forces and to Take Advantage of Their Tactics.

London, April 5, 5 a. m.—It looks today as though the Boers had conceived the audacious plan of attempting to invest Lord Roberts at Bloemfontein, or at least to endeavor to delay his northward advance by harassing the British lines of communication.
On his side, Lord Roberts is concentrating his forces and preparing to take every advantage of the bold, but risky tactics of the enemy.
He is not likely to strike at any of their forces until he is certain of delivering a crushing blow. The situation, in the absence of any official dispatch from Lord Roberts, is both mystifying and interesting. There is little doubt that Lord Roberts is hampered by the necessity for the reconstruction of the transport and the loss of the cavalry guns and all of the Colonel Broadwood's baggage, was a serious matter. The Boers are now trusting to what they believe to be their superior mobility.

The special correspondents at the front are now discussing Lord Roberts' political policy toward the Free States, and are calling for an abandonment of that policy. A special dispatch announces that Mafeking was still besieged but safe, on March 27.

The Daily Mail has the following from Bloemfontein, dated Tuesday, April 3: Col. Porter, with 9) carbini-ers and Scout Corps, and two guns, performed a brilliant deed Sunday.
He charged a large body of Boers and routed 900 odd British prisoners, including 11 officers, who were captured the previous day. There were no casualties on the British side.

DEWEY TALKS OF PRESIDENCY.

IN POSITION OF AN OFFICER WAIT-ING COMMANDS.

Will Say Nothing About His Opinions
Except That Presidents Do Not Make Platforms.

New York, Dispatch April 4.
The Brooklyn Eagle's Washington dispatch on Admiral Dewey's announcement of his candidacy quotes
the admiral as follows:

"I am in the position of an officer, waiting to carry out the orders of the public. The editorial in Monday's Eagle was the means of causing me to come at this time. It forced the issue and directed me to let the public know where I stood."

Admiral Dewey was then asked to outline the platform on which he would run and whether he would seek the nomination from the democratic or republican party.

"Presidents," he replied, "do not make platforms; they are formed by the people. I am not in the attitude of forcing issues or platforms. I will say, however, that I think the platform of the American flag would cover most of the pending questions."

"The people will want to know what you think of the silver question," was suggested to him.

"The fact that I am from Vermont," said the admiral, "ought to settle that."

When asked if he expected a nomination by the republic or democratic party, Admiral Dewey replied: "I do not care to go into that feature. I stand by my general statement. My ambition to be president is an honorable one."

"I wish you would say for me," continued Admiral Dewey, "that I have no offense at the sentiment contained in the editorial in Monday's Eagle. I was really not angry at the publication of the article, and do not object to it at all."

The editorial in the Brooklyn Eagle of April 2, to which Admiral Dewey refers says in part:

"Not what kind of candidate, but what sort of president Admiral Dewey might make, is an inquiry that raises crucially to him and calamity to the country, to the mind, at least as possibilities; when the dilemma or desperation of those who are for him is taken into philosophical account. He might make a fine president. That is a chance. He might make a very weak or ineffective one. . . . There remain other facts. He is not wanted for presidential reasons. He is not wanted for political reasons of a high sort, but for political and personal reasons of a vindictive sort. He represents, so far as his shoulders are concerned, speculation in antipa-thetical."

The editorial discusses his qualifications for the position and declares that he is admirably "innocent as a child" of tariff, banking and politics and adds: "Democracy or republicanism could invest him only as a speculation. We hope that sort of speculative politics will not be presented."

RECAPTURING PRISONERS.

And Great Rejoicing in London This Morning.

London, April 5—Ninety one of the Prince of Wales' Troop S, who were captured by the Boers at the Bloemfontein water works, have been recovered by Col. Porter. The names of the men are not known. They belong probably to the household cavalry of the tenth Hussars. There is great rejoicing in London this morning.

WATER COMPANY WILL PAY.

COUNSEL FOR PLAINTIFF AND DE-FENDANT ARE AGREED.

Decide to Secure the Correll Judgment in The Consideration of a Stay of Proceedings.

A few days ago the Telegram published the fact that the Southern Loan & Trust Company had been appointed temporary receiver of the Greensboro Water Supply Company, which had been notified to appear today before Judge Moore and show cause why the receivership should not be made permanent. The appointment was made on the application of Solicitor A. L.
Brooks as counsel for Mrs. C. J. Gorrell, who holds a judgment against the water company for $5,000, damages awarded her at the last term of the superior court. From this judgment the company had appealed, and, as alleged in the petition of the plaintiff, failed to give any security pending the appeal.

This contention was taken advantage of by the plaintiff in their petition for a receiver. They alleged that the very value and responsibility of the water company rested upon such a special contract with the city, and if no such contract existed the company's property was valueless and could not be responsible, and hence the property should be taken into the hands of a receiver.

Solicitor Brooks went to Durham today to withdraw the application.
Yesterday, A. H. Taylor, Esq., of Baltimore, counsel for the water company, with local counsel, met the counsel of the plaintiff, and came to an understanding. The agreement is simply that the plaintiff will withdraw the application for a receivership in consideration that the water company shall pay all costs of the proceedings and execute justified security guaranteeing the payment of the plaintiff's judgment in case the supreme court affirms the award of the lower court.
This being all the plaintiff asked for,
the agreement was of course satisfactory.

The points in the controversy are very interesting. In the original suit for damages brought by Mrs. Correll, the water company set up the defense that the contract alleged to exist between the city was null and void. The contention to prove this was that the contract was contrary to public policy in that it in effect created a monopoly in not allowing the streets to other parties for a term of years.

FIRE IN WINSTON.

Two Factory Buildings and Three Dwellings Destroyed.

Winston suffered a considerable loss by fire last night. About 11:30 fire was discovered in the second story of the P. C. Edwards factory building in which was stored a stock of leaf tobacco belonging to Brown & Williamson, valued at about $10,000, only partially covered by insurance. The building was valued at $5,000, and was utterly destroyed, together with its contents.

Next the Riggins & Correll factory caught. This building also contained a stock of leaf tobacco belonging to Mr. H. L. Riggins and valued at about $12,000, insured for $7,500. In addition there were three small dwellings burned. Insurance not known.

NOW ALL ENGLAND IS STIRRED

BOERS ARE PRESSING IN ALL DIRECTIONS UPON ROBERTS.

The Free Staters Are Reorganizing
And Roberts is Planning Big Guns For an Attack.

New York, April 5—A Journal special says: All England is stirred today over the significant message from Bloemfontein dated Wednesday. The Boers are reported moving on Bloemfontein from all directions. The Free Staters are being reorganized. Several prominent leaders who had submitted were foremost in the fighting of the water works ambush. This explains why Roberts is hurry to mount big naval guns.
Every sign indicates that the Boers are pressing for to attack instead of waiting for Roberts to take the offensive.

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1900.

HOW MUCH THIS TIME?

Our excellent weekly contemporary, the Greensboro Patriot, came out very strong yesterday on the subject of the public schools, taking up the discussion which has been started as to the position that the Democratic party should take in its convention next week on this very important subject. The Patriot says very earnestly that the position of the party should be strong.

We agree with our contemporary. The party should speak in no uncertain sound. Its position should not only be strong, but advanced. Of course nothing should be allowed to interfere with the success of the amendment, and the subject of education cannot, for indeed these two measures go hand in hand. With the passage of the amendment and an adequate common school law a decade will bring the most wonderful change in North Carolina. As a State we have not yet begun to educate. We have made improvements, to be sure, but the first mile post has not yet been reached. We have been playing at educating; now the business must be in earnest. The Democratic party must take up this burden and work out in it the State's salvation. It must have courage enough to do two things: Take education out of politics, and to furnish enough money to create and maintain a system worthy the name. Indeed, must the party come out strong for education. The people are not afraid of taxation on this subject and they are getting terribly in earnest about the education of their children.

The Democratic party in 1899 gave to the public schools $100,000 in addition to the regular revenue. That lengthened the schools on an average about two weeks, but on a basis of pitiful salaries for teachers. The next legislature ought not to think of giving a penny under $250,000. This would give one month additional schooling at a little better salary. The friends of education ought not to be satisfied with a cent less.

THE INFANT DEWEY.

Eighteen months ago George Dewey was as popular and admired a man as America ever had. His brilliant victory on May day, 1898, and his long, tedious and straining duties afterwards when he was called upon to display both firmness and tact in handling the trying situation, endeared him to the hearts of the American people, who love firmness and skill no less than they love dash and courage. Dewey was then a hero, a worthy one, and had not fallen into the weakness of talking, he would have been sure of permanence as a popular hero. But alas, he came home and was either unable to stand popularity, or else is weakening in his mind.

It is all a forcible comment on the fact that men don't know when to let well enough alone. Dewey was unable to distinguish between what the people wanted as a naval hero and what they wanted for a president. But, in spite of all this, we firmly believe that he would never have come to his present spectacle had he not gotten married. We would not utter a word of disrespect towards the lady he selected for his wife, but she is ambitious without discretion. As sure as the sun rises she is pushing her husband up to this thing. The statement was made in the papers some time ago, and has not been denied that she was making free statements to her friends that she was ambitious to be the "first lady in the land." That is the secret of it all. Dewey's announcement shows that so far as knowing anything about what is required of a president, he is an innocent babe. He absolutely knows nothing. There is no personal popularity so great as to be sufficient to elect a man president on the simple platform that "he doesn't take much brains to fill that office."

Dewey the hero is gone and Dewey the babe has come. We don't like the change.

The News and Observer this morning states that Prof. Henry Jerome Stockard has accepted the professorship of English and Latin in Peace Institute, and will move his family to Raleigh in June. For two or three years Mr. Stockard has been in Virginia. He is a native of Alamance, and we are exceeding glad to learn that he will return to his native State. Mr. Stockard has achieved wide reputation as a poet, his work being known in this work we believe heretofore with any writer in America. The Century Magazine, the leading monthly periodical of America, has been publishing his productions. His life work is teaching, and his accomplishment in the literary field has been wholly outside of his regular work, which has been like all teaching, burdensome.

GAINING EVERY DAY.
The Amendment is Finding New Friends All Over the State.

Charlotte Observer.
The Stateville Landmark remarks as a gratifying feature of the recent return of our most popular politician to his first love and says some republicans cast in their lot with the democrats. Speaking of the populists, it refers particularly to L. C. Caldwell, Esq., of Statesville, who left the democratic party four years ago and held the office as railroad commissioner for a period, and gives him a cordial welcome upon his return, saying that "he is an able man and a very popular one" and that "he has done much work for the Democratic party in the past and will work for it again." The past and will work for it again. A C. Observer learns further that Mr. Caldwell, Esq., one of the most influential Republicans in the State, and who has recently represented that county, David and Yarkin in the Senate, will stump the county for the amendment, for which he declared some months ago.

While the prospects for the amendment are bright in the piedmont counties and growing brighter, excellent news comes from the further west. The republicans have directed much of their campaign upon the ninth district, and by working upon the fears of the unlettered whites that the bill will be disfranchised, are supposed to have made a good deal of impression beyond the mountains. A gentleman who lives in that section, who knows it thoroughly, and who has lately made some speeches in it, reports that he finds the people in most receptive mood. They are natural democrats and want to be for the amendment if they are assured that under it their present rights will be preserved. One whom they know and in whom they have confidence has no difficulty in convincing them of this fact, and this gentleman is satisfied that once the campaign is fully on, and the republican misrepresentations are exposed, the people will readily embrace the amendment and that it will secure at least the full party vote.

All over the state it is gaining ground every day.

Hayden, Wheeler & Schwend Get Contract for Presbyterian College.

Charlotte News.
The committee on plans for the new Presbyterian college building which began looking at plans and listening to archtects yesterday morning at 10:30, continued to do so until late in the afternoon, and then adjourned to resume work this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The committee gave out the information last night that the contract would be awarded a Charles firm of architects and this morning the committee awarded the contract to Hayden, Wheeler & Schwend, Hook & Sawyer and F. P. Milburn. The News learned this morning that the contract was between Milburn and Hayden, Wheeler & Schwend, Hook & Sawyer being out of it last night, when the committee adjourned. The committee met at the church at 3 o'clock this afternoon for adjournment.

After an hour's further discussion and comparing of the two sets of plans under consideration, the committee awarded the contract to Hayden, Wheeler & Schwend. The cost of the building is to be $50,000.

CHINESE VENGEANCE ON A SPY.

Chung Tied to a Stake on a Lonely Island and Left to Starve to Death.

San Francisco Dispatch, 2d.
Chung Hing Hook, a Chinese shrimp fisherman, was found by Constable Agnew on Sunday bound hand and foot and tied to a stake on an uninhabited island in San Pablo Bay. He had been left to die slowly of starvation because he was accused of being a spy.

Two companies of Chinese are striving for the monopoly of the lucrative shrimp industry. One is controlled by King Ow Yung, formerly Chinese vice consul at San Francisco. He secured a practical monopoly of the business, but recently a rival company has appeared, which Chung belongs to. King smuggled a lot of Chinese into his camp, but some one informed the United States officials and the men were arrested.

Then Highlanders posted placards threatening death to any one who gave information. They seized Chung one night, carried him to their headquarters, gave him a mock trial and condemned him to death. They rowed him over to a solitary island, seldom visited and out of the course of passing steamers. Then they drove a stake into the ground and tied their victim to it. He was bound, but not gagged, and his feet were pegged down securely.

For two days he was exposed to the fierce sun without food or water, and to the cold fogs at night. Then some of his friends visited Constable Agnew by night and told him of Chung's plight. He visited the island and rescued the man, who was nearly dead from exposure. Chung would not tell who had left him to die, as he said he would be killed. All that he wanted was to seek safety among his friends.

Helping Him On.

Philadelphia Press.
"I have heard," he stammered, hoping against hope, "that you are engaged. Is it true?"
"No," she replied, "but I expect to be."
"May I—er ask when?"
"In about two minutes—or less."

RAVING MANIAC.
A Woman From Gaston County A Pitiable Spectacle.

Charlotte News.
On the Air Line train this morning was a crazy woman, Prudence Conweather, of Gaston county, who was being taken to the asylum, at Raleigh. The woman was in charge of Deputy Sheriff Craig. They boarded the train at Gastonia, and from there to Charlotte, and no doubt all the rest of the route, the woman raved. She beat her head against the window, shrieked at the top of her voice and cursed everybody in sight. Her every word almost was a horrible oath. Her hands were hand-cuffed, and she was tied in the seat. When the train stopped here, she attracted a crowd about the window where she was sitting, by her ravings. She beat her head against the window sill and cursed at the top of her voice, with every breath. Every one who passed the window was the object of her attack. The sight was terrible—almost horrible. The woman went crazy six months ago, and was kept first in the county home and then in the jail. She became so violent that she could not be kept there any longer.

H. Clark, Chauncey, Ga., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him of piles that had afflicted him for twenty years. It is also a speedy cure for skin diseases. Beware of dangerous counterfeits. Howard Gardner.

RED HOT FROM THE GUN.

Was the ball that hit G. B. Steadman, of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for twenty years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, pneumonia and all throat and lung diseases. It's early use prevents consumption. Children always like it and mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

Supreme Court Decisions.

Chief Justice Reckley, of Ga., has tried Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy. His decision: "Atlanta, Ga.: I have used, and am now using, Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy. With its aid and a little of the usual diet, I have been able to eat and sleep as well as I have for some time. I have gained weight and feel better than I have for some time. I have gained twenty pounds in two months."

THE FOOLED THE SURGEONS.

All doctors told Honick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, Ohio, after suffering 18 months from rectal stricture, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Miss Fortytodd—"What shall we do this evening?" Oldback—"Well, I propose—" Miss Fortytodd—"Oh, Mr. Oldback! This is so sudden!"

J. I. Carson, Prothonotary, Washington Pa., says, "I have found Kodol Dyspepsia Cure an excellent remedy in case of stomach trouble, and have derived great benefit from its use." It digests what you eat and can not fail to cure. Howard Gardner.

"The Adventures of Lady Ursula."

Miss Francis Drake, who has been with Daniel Frohman for several seasons, will appear as Lady Ursula in Daniel V. Arthur's production of "The Adventures of Lady Ursula," in which William Morris is starring. An exceptionally strong company will be seen in the support of this capable actor. Mr. Morris' immense success in "Under the Red Robe" and "The Lost Paradise" gives special interest to his production in this season of the great New York Lyceum and London successes. "The Adventures of Lady Ursula" is by Anthony Hope, the author of "The Prisoner of Zenda," and is a well constructed story cleverly portrayed by Mr. Morris and his all-star company, which appears at the academy of music Saturday night.

W. W. Mayhew, Merton, Wis., says, "I consider One Minute Cough Cure a most wonderful medicine, quick and safe." It is a really harmless remedy that gives immediate relief. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe, whooping cough, pneumonia and all throat and lung diseases. It's early use prevents consumption. Children always like it and mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

We believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see how it would affect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs.—The Herald, Andersonville, Ind. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

SEVEN RUNNING SORES CURED

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

THE GREAT SPRING MEDICINE.

JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is a Blood Food and Nerve Energizer, the greatest SPRING MEDICINE ever discovered. It comes as a rich blessing from heaven to the "worn out," the run down, the overworked and debilitated. That "fired" feeling, those "sinking spells," the languor and dependency which arise from badly nourished nerves, from thin, vitiated blood and an underfed body, vanish as if by magic. The weariness, lassitude and nervous prostration which accompany the spring time and the heat of summer, are conquered and banished at once. For every form of neurasthenia, and all ailments of the brain and nerve, insomnia, hysteria and nervousness generally, it is almost a specific. It furnishes the very elements to rebuild worn-out tissues. It feeds brain, nerve centers and nerves, calming and equalizing their action, makes rich, red, honest blood. Nervousness of life, new hope, new strength follow its full use. It makes the weak strong, and the old young again.

It was the antiquated (but now happily exploded) method in the good old times, to treat Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Cancer and other troublesome disorders, arising from BLOOD TAIN, with powerful alteratives, such as mercury, arsenic and other mineral agents. It was expected by this treatment that the poison could be killed while the blood was left to course through its channels holding in its circulation the specific germs of the disease. But in this way, every part of the body became more or less diseased. Nothing can be more terrible than a horribly destructive blood taint. It not only attacks violently the different structures of the body, but many times the bowels are honey-combed and destroyed. It often seeks out the nerves and spinal cord, and again it will bring decay and death to some vital organ, as the kidneys, liver or stomach. There is only one scientific method for the cure of blood taint. That is, PURIFICATION! Every particle of the blood must be removed through the excretory channels, the lungs, kidneys, bowels and skin. "First pure, then peaceable." The great restorative, reconstructive and vitalizer of the blood, JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, not only radically and exhaustively removes the taint, but also removes all mercury, arsenic and other minerals, and fills the veins and arteries with the ruby, glowing current of vitality. The blood is Sarsaparilla, is universally regarded as the greatest Blood Purifier ever discovered. This fact is now established beyond question or cavil.

BLOOD POISON CURED BY JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

his son into the study for a little while with him before going down to the general.

"I do not need to tell you, George," began his father quietly, but with feeling, "that I felt the disgrace of your drunkenness last night very bitterly. We cannot know the feelings of your mother and mother-in-law when you did not call upon them in here to reproach them for their views. I want to know that you intend to do in the face of the present conditions."

Mr. Hardy paused, then went on again: "I am perfectly aware, George, that you regard my dream as a fancy and think I am probably out of my mind. Isn't that true?"

Mr. Hardy looked George full in the face, and the young man stammered:

the richly dressed woman, the refined, cultured lady, to hold this other one to be of the same household of God with her. So it was that she finally succeeded in drawing her away into the other room, and there held her, gasping for breath, now that the brief strength was spent, and crying feebly: "O God, help me! Don't keep me here in this world any longer."

And this brief scene threw the neighbors with pity, what shall be said of its effect on Robert Hardy? For a moment it seemed to him more than he could bear. He started to his feet and put his hands before his face. He felt as if he were in a great effort, he came down, and his face became almost like a stone in its rigidity. When his

THE TRAVELERS.

Jotted Down By the Telegram Reporter Today.

Mr. J. T. Rich went to Winston on this morning's train.

Mr. J. A. Felzer, of Reidsville, is in the city this afternoon.

Mr. S. C. Ball went south this morning, going to Monroe.

Mr. S. M. Gattis, of Hillsboro, returned home today from federal court.

Mr. J. T. Turner, a local insurance man, went to Burlington this morning.

Col. Benehan Cameron, of Stagville, was in the city today and went to Durham.

Mr. J. L. Abbott left this morning for Spray to accept a position with the cotton mill there.

Miss Lilly Burnett, of Reidsville, is here to attend the meetings of the Y. M. C. A. convention.

J. Loy Seawell, a prominent citizen and farmer of Moore County, spent last night in the city.

Mr. J. B. McCreary, of the livery firm of Smoak & McCreary, Winston, was in the city this morning.

Ex-Solicitor W. W. Barber, of Wilkesboro, came down last night to attend federal court.

Miss Lillian Anderson, of Reidsville, is spending the week with Miss Myrtle Cook, on Spring Garden street.

Mr. W. D. Mendenhall, secretary and treasurer of the Guilford Lumber Co., went east this morning on a business trip.

Mr. W. N. Poindester, of Walker-town, was here this morning and went south in the interest of his tobacco business.

Miss Mabel Vann, of Franklinton, a student at the Female College, went to Raleigh today to meet her mother and spend a day or two there.

Hon. C. H. Mebane, superintendent of public instruction, was here this afternoon and went to Mt. Airy to attend an educational meeting tonight.

Mrs. W. R. Vickers, of Reidsville, passed through today, returning home from Charlotte. Mrs. J. S. Ingram accompanied her home and is spending the afternoon there.

T. W. Steamler, of Parkwood, the owner of the North Carolina Mill Store property in Moore county, was here last night, stopping at Hotel Guilford.

The Meanest Man.

There is a man in town who looks around all the week and takes the money earned by his two daughters, who work hard every day, allowing them, it is said, only ten cents each. One of them earns more than six dollars a week and the other more than four. He is said to be an able-bodied fellow, and to live in absolute idleness. He is committing a crime against humanity if not against the civil law, and there should be some way to reach him.

Special Rehearsal.

There will be a special rehearsal of the Easter Cantata tonight at Mrs. Willis' on West Gaston. The entire chorus work will be rehearsed, but it is particularly desired that all of the basses be present, as special attention will be given them.

Souvenir.

The Guilford Lumber Manufacturing Company has issued a neat advertising souvenir, consisting of a card board folder handsomely printed in gilt, and on the inside carrying an assortment of needles, with this inscription:

THE GREENSBORO WOMAN

Is useful as well as ornamental. She graces the social functions, and she can sew.

We take pleasure in furnishing the needles And will have greater pleasure in furnishing you estimate for the finest LUMBER.

Appeared in Winston-Salem.

The Twin City Daily Sentinel says: The Rogers-Griffey Recital last evening attracted a very large attendance at the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A., and it is safe to say that none were disappointed who went expecting an evening of pleasure. It was, in fact, the most thoroughly enjoyable number so far given in this season's Star course.

As a harpist, Mr. Rogers is a genuine artist, and Mr. Griffey admirably sustained his role as an entertainer. Both gentlemen were assured of the appreciation of the audience by hearty and repeated encores, to which they graciously responded.

These talented gentlemen appear at the Normal tomorrow night. Admission to those not holding course tickets, 25 cents.

Advertisers.

Comfort in old age is assured by taking a policy in the Penn Mutual, it costs but little. Life is an uncertainty, better attend to this before it is too late. Murray Bros. will take pleasure in explaining the different plans to you.

C. O. Forbie is opening up today some of the finest and most up-to-date brass and iron beds ever shown on this market.

THE LAST OF THE SEASON.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gregory Entertain the Bachelor Girls.

One of the most delightful social events of the season and the last of the many pleasant meetings of that charming coterie and important adjunct to Greensboro society, the Bachelor Girls, was a Ragtime party given last evening from 9 to 12 complimentary to them by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gregory at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Catlin on Davis street. Mesdames Gregory and Catlin, assisted by Miss Porter, received the guests.

Ragtime southerly shaped as slices of watermelon to which were hung miniature Ethiopians designating the points of the successful contestants in the games that followed. Miss Alice Small was awarded the prize, a nicely bound volume, and Mr. Arthur Rankin received the booby, an ill fitting dunce cap.

Those present were Misses Lottie Peyton, Mable Moore, Alice Small, Elizabeth Bales, Pearl Bales, May Small, Mary Goolsby, Vivian Skober, Ruth Porter, Mabel Kase. Messrs. W. T. Powe, Arthur Rankin, P. D. Gold, Jr., W. F. Blount, D. W. Kase, Drs. Scott and Robertson, E. H. Carter, John King.

BOSTON VS. OAK RIDGE.

Interesting Game of Baseball Arranged for Saturday.

The game of baseball at the Park Saturday afternoon between the Boston team and Oak Ridge team will be one that will doubtless draw a large crowd. The Boston boys are here in daily training and are getting in good trim. Rom J. Chambers, of Weaverville, N. C., is a member of the Boston team and this game will be the first in which a North Carolinian has played here on a league team. That alone should cause our people to take unusual interest in the game. The chief feature of interest is that the Oak Ridge boys, from our own county, have the nerve to tackle the national champions.

It will be good ball. Oak Ridge has defeated the University, which has hitherto been the leader in North Carolina athletics. Bob Stafford, a local favorite, is with the Oak Ridge team, and may be expected to do some star work.

The general admission will be 25 cents; all ladies free. The State Normal and Industrial College will be privileged to witness the game in a body. The grounds have just been put in good condition, and Manager Seale, of the Bostonians, says the diamond is in splendid shape.

Fruit Not Killed.

Mr. J. Van Lintley writes the Telegram today as follows:

"Although we had seven degrees of frost last night, there is no fruit hurt to amount to anything. Not even apricots were killed. High winds and dry weather saved it."

Mr. Lintley is perhaps the best authority in the state, and comes as near to knowing the exact damage done by the cold as any man. We are glad to have his assurance that the fruit is not killed.

IN NEW QUARTERS

The Telegram Grooms Its Readers. From Its New Quarters.

Today is Wilkes day in federal court, cases from that county being tried.

Improvements are being made on the residence of Mr. John Ferguson, Buchanan street.

Mr. John Y. Smith slipped and fell on the concrete pavement at the depot this morning, sustaining painful injuries about the face.

A battle on the diamond is taking place at Oak Ridge this afternoon between the team at that place and Horner Military School. The Horner boys passed here at noon going up.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. W. Theodore Williams to Miss Mable L. Teague, of Burlington, at the Presbyterian church in that town, April 18th at nine o'clock, p. m. They will reside in Greensboro.

A large number of delegates arrived today for the Y. M. C. A. convention. The meeting tonight will be at 8 o'clock, instead of 7:30, as announced yesterday. The address of welcome will be delivered by Mr. A. M. Seales.

The Coolidge cotton mill, nearing completion, of which Dr. G. A. Mebane, of this city, is secretary and treasurer, is 475 feet long, 127 wide and three stories high. Machinery is now being placed in the mill and it will soon be ready to begin business.

Mr. J. H. Johnson returned to his home in this city last night, having been absent since the 24th of January. He has been in Kansas and Missouri, settling up the estate of his brother, Mr. Milton Johnson, who died January 2, in Trego county, Kansas. Mr. Johnson says he encountered quite a variety of weather while he was gone.

A fair is going around the city selling mail boxes for residences, telling people he thinks he can gull, that the government requires them to purchase so that carriers will not have to bring the door bells. The price of the box is 25 cents to all, but the time allowed to use it for that amount varies, as it has been offered for a term of four to six years.
